

Career Recharge gets funding through to 2027

Published 1/5/2024 by Stephanie Conte

Seneca's Career Recharge program has been so successful that TD Bank, a supporter since the job skills training pilot began in June 2019, recently renewed its commitment, ensuring that thousands of Seneca students, alumni and community members will continue to benefit.

More than 23,300 people have taken the free Career Recharge workshops, which help sharpen individuals' workplace skills. TD's additional commitment of a $495,000 grant will help fund the program through to November 2027.

Read more about the funding

tags : feature-stories