

Winter weather advisory: snowfall and rain warning

Published 1/9/2024 by Anna Dorbyk

There is a winter weather advisory in effect in the area with the potential for significant snow and rain fall.

Our campuses remain open and classes will continue as scheduled but please exercise caution when choosing your method of transportation today.

We will continue to monitor the weather throughout the day. If the situation changes and there is any impact to Seneca services, including classes and shuttle buses, we will let you know via a message here, on the Seneca Safe app and on our social media channels.

Stay safe and warm, Seneca!
