About

Seneca Polytechnic is the first Adobe Creative Campus in Canada — giving all students and employees free access to Adobe Creative Cloud, including popular software such as Photoshop, Illustrator, XD, Premiere, After Effects and more. It is available for the latest Windows/Mac operating systems including Android and iOS with online storage.

Seneca has joined the ranks of world-renowned institutions like Berkeley and PennState as the first Adobe Creative Campus in Canada. The selection was based on:

- commitment to digital literacy in strategic goals and student outcomes

- integration of Creative Cloud into cross-disciplinary curricula

- interest in collaborating and sharing content and best practices with peer institutions

- access to Adobe Creative Cloud for the student body

The Adobe Creative Campus program will recognize, facilitate, and support the Seneca community in driving innovation, serving as an example for other leading academic institutions and preparing students for success in the classroom and in the modern economy.
