This program offers a unique and enriching experience where students can spend two weeks learning about local domestic and exotic species. Additionally, students will get the chance to visit animal rescue centers and esteemed institutions such as the Universidad Técnica Nacional (Atenas, Costa Rica) and Tecnológico de Costa Rica (TEC) (San Carlos campus).

The FLPA program is delivered in partnership with Costa Rica Global Learning Programs, and is led by Seneca professors. Students must attend classes at Seneca before and after the trip.
