Seneca Polytechnic respects and values the diversity of faith and operates in an inclusive educational and working environment. If students will be absence from placement for religious observance, they must submit in writing, the required date(s) at the start of the semester to their Field Mentor and Field Liaison. The request must state the name of the observance, date being requested and the religious affiliation.

Students are not expected to make up missed placement days due to Religious Observances unless they exceed two (2) absences per semester.
