About the Seneca Student Leadership Conference

The Seneca Student Leadership Conference (SSLC) brings together Seneca students from across all program areas to develop leadership skills and knowledge while connecting with their peers and the wider Seneca community. Each SSLC is designed around a specific theme that connects to leadership and integrates key leadership values, concepts, and practices to support student learning and leadership development.

Through a series of interactive activities, and group discussions, students will gain knowledge, experience, and opportunities to expand their leadership and networking skills. Click here to learn more about the benefits of attending the Leadership Conference.
