Seneca Animation will showcase five student-made short films on the big screen at York University's Sandra Faire and Ivan Fecan Theatre on Tuesday, Dec. 17, and they want your feedback.

The Seneca Polytechnic community is invited to attend the screening in person or watch it later online. The catch? Seneca Animation will use the occasion to screen test the films and ask the audience for their feedback.

The screening begins at 5 p.m., following a pre-show from 3 to 4 p.m. Stick around after the screening for panel discussions, one of which will feature President David Agnew, Dean Kurt Muller and Chair John Goodwin.

The Sandra Faire and Ivan Fecan Theatre is located within the York Accolade East Building.

You can find a list of the films being screened at seneca2d.com.
