

Seneca Libraries modifies database subscriptions

Published 6/6/2025 by Sharon Lindores

Seneca Libraries is making some changes to its collection.

After a period of review, it's been decided that the following database subscriptions will be phased out from June through to February 2026.

Effective immediately

- AdForum
- BuildingGreen

From Tuesday, July 1

- Bloomsbury Fashion Business Cases
- College Complete
- EBSCO eBook Academic Collection
- Ebook Central: College Complete
- Media Names and Numbers
- Oxford Reference Premium

From Friday, Aug. 1

- Law360
- University of Fashion

From Monday, Sept. 1

- Anatomy.TV: 3D Atlas of Human Anatomy
- Curio.ca: Includes CBC News in Review

- Engineering Case Studies Online
- Films on Demand

From Wednesday, Oct. 1

- Britannica Academic
- Informit Indigenous Collection
- Pop Culture Universe

From Monday, Dec. 1

- Destination Development Association Resource Center

From Monday, Dec. 15

- Aesthetic VideoSource: VideoShelf

From Thursday, Jan. 1, 2026

- Canada's Information Resource Centre
- Career Cruising
- Gale Bundle #1: CPI.Q, Academic OneFile, and InfoTrac Collections
- NFB.ca (National Film Board of Canada)

From Sunday, Feb. 1, 2026

- Canadian Points of View

Seneca Libraries apologizes for any inconvenience these changes may cause. If you require assistance in finding alternative resources, please email librarians@senecapolytechnic.ca.

Please note, that a wide range of databases including academic journals, ebooks and streaming videos on everything from biology to statistics are available 24/7.

tags : student-news