

SQAC at the Fall 2025 Seneca Service Fair

Once again this September, the Student Quality Assurance Council (SQAC) joined the Seneca Service Fair at the King, Newnham and Seneca@York campuses. It was an amazing opportunity to engage with students, hear their suggestions and spread awareness about the SQAC's mission.

We prepared a PowerPoint presentation highlighting what the SQAC does and why it is important, as well as a short survey asking students about their academic journey thus far and their expectations for the semester.

- 68% of survey participants were returning students, while 32% identified themselves as new students.
- 90% of respondents rated the quality of their program so far this semester between 4-5 out of a scale of 5.
- Some students had specific suggestions on how their program and learning experience could be improved, including having more events (with food) and more surveys!

We believe student involvement in academic quality can improve the quality of programs. The SQAC acts as a liaison between students and Seneca, incorporating the student voice in the design, delivery, and review of programs.

We look forward to more opportunities to engage with students. We can be reached by email at SQAC@senecapolytechnic.ca. Your input and voice matter.
