

Earn a credit in one week in February or April

Published 3 days ago by Ryan Flanagan

---

The Faculty of Arts is introducing a one-week, 42-hour online course that fulfills a general education credit.

This new, flexible format may be especially helpful for students who are nearing graduation and need one more general education credit to complete their program.

The initial course is called Building Bridges Through Intercultural Communication (CAN110) and will be offered Feb. 23 to Feb. 27 and April 27 to May 1.

For more information and to register, visit the General Education Courses webpage.

tags : student-news