Seneca Polytechnic respects and values the diversity of faith and operates in an inclusive educational and working environment. If students will be absent from placement for a religious observance, they must submit in writing, the dates they will require to be off at the start of the semester to their Field Mentor and Field Placement Coordinator. The request must state the name of the observance, the date(s) being requested, and the religious affiliation.

Students must make up missed placement days due to Religious Observances.
