

Queen's University is newest addition to Seneca's Liberal Arts University Transfer pathway

Published 18 hours ago by Ran Luo

Seneca Polytechnic has expanded its Liberal Arts University Transfer \(LAT\) program with the addition of Queen's University as its newest pathway partner.

The LAT program gives students the opportunity to explore a wide range of humanities and social science disciplines while developing university-level academic skills. In this supportive environment, students develop the critical thinking, research and academic writing skills needed for success at research-intensive universities.
