

Andre Dukhia

Published 10/14/2021 by Gerald Encabo

Andre Dukhia is a seasoned tourism and economic development professional with more than 20 years experience in the field of tourism development, tourism marketing and Project Management. Andre has worked on several projects ranging from simple to complex in the past and he is an accredited project management professional (PMP). Andre holds a bachelor of arts degree in tourism studies and has done numerous professional development studies.

He has also done short studies at Mao University in Japan focused on sustainable tourism development for CARICOM countries and Management training in tourism administration with the Pontificia Universidad Catolica Madre Y Maestra, Dominican Republic interned with the Curacao Tourism Development Bureau.

Andre's most recent professional employment lasted for 8 years with Nature and Outdoor Tourism Ontario as their tourism development specialist.

To learn more about Andre's experience, check out his LinkedIn page.

tags : faculty