Researching Employers

Version 4

Published 10/26/2021 by Gerald Encabo   Last updated 10/27/2021 7:15 PM by Gerald Encabo

Since most jobs are not advertised, doing research to identify companies, contacts and potential employment opportunities allows you to be proactive in your job search. A listing of web and print based company directories is available through Seneca Libraries. Once you have compiled a list of contacts, you may wish to begin Cold Calling, Networking and conducting Information Interviews.

tags : interview-skills