

Season 4, Episode 7: Randy Pitawanakwat

Published 2/23/2022 by Tiffany Hsieh

Randy Pitawanakwat from First Peoples@Seneca joins host Pat Perdue to talk about Skoden, a 12-week professional development program at Seneca that helps faculty understand how to incorporate Indigenous perspectives into their course materials. Mr. Pitawanakwat also shares a couple of Indigenous podcasts — Métis in Space and Storykeepers — and his own journey from Wiikwemkoong Unceded Territory and Atikameksheng Anishnawbek First Nation to a faculty member at Seneca.

Listen to the podcast

tags : podcasts