

Explore the world through Seneca Abroad

Published 11/28/2022 by Stephanie Conte

The International Mobility Office offers students a variety of options to study abroad during their studies at Seneca.

Brianna Rae and Halie Sproul, students from Seneca's Veterinary Technician diploma program are preparing for a two-week study abroad program at the Universidad de Especialidades Espíritu Santo in Ecuador. During the program, students will visit animal rescue centres, attend guest lectures and more. The program is led by Kirsti Clarida, Program Co-ordinator, Veterinary Technician diploma program.

Watch Ms. Rae and Ms. Sproul talk about their upcoming study abroad experience.

Check out upcoming study abroad opportunities.

To learn more, visit the space, email senecaabroad@senecacollege.ca or attend an upcoming information session.

tags : student-news