

Seneca announces first EDI initiatives supported through The Jane Fund

Published 5/10/2022 by Tiffany Hsieh

The first allocations from The Jane Fund will contribute $250,000 to support equity, diversity and inclusion (EDI) initiatives at Seneca for students in need, an artist-in-residence and an ongoing speaker's series on campus.

While criteria are still being finalized, $25,000 will be dedicated to full-tuition bursaries for students enrolled in programs with pathways to Seneca, such as Youth to Postsecondary, Academic Upgrading and General Arts. The bursaries will cover costs for an entire Seneca program.

Read the full story

tags : edi-news, feature-stories