You are representing Seneca College. You will be shadowing your Field Mentor in the day to day classroom routines and duties. You are expected to take initiative and go beyond the minimum expectations. Field Placement is a great opportunity for you to show off your skills which can possibly turn to employment opportunities or raving references. If at any time a student jeopardizes the physical and/or emotional well-being, health or safety of a child through actions or behaviours and the liaison determines that the student is not capable of the required level of independent functioning, the student may be withdrawn from placement and may fail the course. The student may also be asked to leave the program.

The student may also be withdrawn from placement and fail the curriculum and field placement courses for inappropriate and unprofessional conduct.

Please ensure that you are prepared and organized. Please review all the things you need to do and have before the semester starts.

We are confident that each of your field placement experiences will be a learning experience. Check your Seneca email regularly for updates. Please contact your liaison for further clarifications or inquires.
