

Learn about new programs available at Seneca

Published 1/18/2023 by Stephanie Conte

If you're thinking of brushing up your knowledge this year, Seneca has some great new programs and certificates. Whether you're looking for a short, eight-month certificate or a degree there are a range of options.

Here are some programs with September start dates that will be highlighted in a series of one-hour webinars between Monday, Jan. 23 and Friday, Jan. 26.

- Honours Bachelor of Science – Biotechnology
This four-year program combines theory and practical knowledge.
Register for the webinar on Jan. 23 at 2 p.m. EST.
- Honours Bachelor of Communications & Media
This four-year program emphasizes evolving industry trends.
Register for the webinar on Jan. 24 at noon EST.
- Asset Management graduate certificate
This eight-month program offers case studies and industry experience.
Register for the webinar on Jan. 24 at 6 p.m. EST.
- Honours Bachelor of Information Technology Design and Management
This four-year program will provide a solid foundation in technical skills and cover finance, marketing and ethics.
Register for the webinar on Jan. 25 at noon EST.
- Immigration Case Management graduate certificate
This eight-month program focuses on immigration, refugee and citizenship law and administration support skills.
Register for the webinar on Jan. 25 at 6 p.m. EST.
- Sustainable Urban & Transportation Planning graduate certificate
This eight-month program provides planning fundamentals, technical skills and case studies.
Register for the webinar on Jan. 26 at 7 p.m. EST.

tags : student-news