

Soaring to new heights

Published 3/9/2023 by Stephanie Conte

The sky's the limit for Julie Beverstein. The School of Aviation graduate has been a pilot for more than 22 years and has blazed a trail helping countless other women along the way.

The first female pilot on Jazz Aviation's Flight Operations Management team — a position she started in August 2019 — she also serves on the board of the Northern Lights Aero Foundation, a non-profit organization that promotes women in aviation and aerospace.

Read more about Ms. Beverstein's story

tags : feature-stories