

Refund criteria for full-time or part-time load day students withdrawing from a program

Version 2

Published 3/13/2023 by Ingrid Scheepers Last updated 3/13/2023 5:27 PM by Ingrid Scheepers

Students must officially withdraw from a course or program to be eligible for a fee refund.

Students who do not officially withdraw from a course will receive a “DNA” or “F” grade, which will affect their grade point average.

Non-attendance of class and/or notification of withdrawal directed to a professor is not considered acceptable notification of withdrawal.

Academic standing and related refund options

Academic standing	Fees refund
Withdrawal from a Seneca course or program before the tenth day of scheduled classes will delete any reference in a student's academic record.	Full tuition fees less the deposit will be refunded.
Withdrawal from Seneca course or program after the tenth day of scheduled classes and before the final withdrawal date as published by the Registrar's Office will result in the grade designation “” on a student's academic record.	No tuition fees will be refunded. Fees collected in advance in advance for future terms will be refunded.